About

MIT Press Direct is the most comprehensive digital collection of MIT Press ebooks. The platform hosts more than 3,700 titles, including the open access titles supported by the Direct to Open (D2O) program. Libraries can purchase backlist and archive collections, including subject collections. Libraries can participate in D2O to support open access monographs as well as purchase the 2024 Trade collection.

For participation in our open access monographs program, D2O, please see full fee structure, including international institutions, further information here:

Key Features

- Participating in D2O supports opening frontlist monographs on publication and give libraries calendar year access to the backfile for the supporter monographs collection through December 31, 2023.
- Purchase of the 2024 Trade collection comes with term access to the Trade backfile.
- D2O libraries receive discounting on Trade collections.
- DRM-free: users can print, copy and paste, and download PDFs by chapter without limits.
- Unlimited simultaneous users.
- Perpetual rights options.
- Free MARC records and KBART files.
- COUNTER usage statistics and SUSHI reports.
- Tiered pricing based on FTE and budget, with no ongoing maintenance fees.
- Consortia discounts available.

Ordering Information

General Ordering

Please include your subscription account number on all orders.

- Canadian customers, please add 5% GST. Our GST number is 127 618 635.

Subscription Agents

- Our standard agency discount is 3%.
- Agents must deduct their discount from the prices on our Price List when submitting orders by mail or fax. If you do not deduct your agency discount, we will hold the overpayment on your account to be used for future orders.
- Agents must include complete end user information for all orders.

Payments

- Checks and money orders must be in US funds, drawn on a US bank, and made payable to MIT Press.
- American Express, VISA, & MasterCard are also accepted.
- Never send credit card information by email.
- We do not have a European Community Value Added Tax (VAT) number.
- Our wire or bank transfer information is below. Please email jdpcs-wires@mit.edu when the wire transfer is initiated.

Wire payment ABA routing #: 026 009 593

ACH ABA routing #: 011 000 138

Bank address:

Bank of America, NA, 100 Federal Street, Boston MA 02110

Swift code: BOFAUS3N

Account name: MIT Press Journals

DDA account number: 004632424694 (MIT Incoming Wire)

Please note MIT does not charge for incoming wires. The bank you use to remit a wire transfer payment will make the transfer according to its own routing arrangements. If your bank has chosen to use an intermediary bank to transfer the payment to MIT, the intermediary bank may deduct their fee from your payment. This appears to be general banking practice. Please ask your bank if they will use an intermediary bank to process the transfer, if this bank will charge you or the receiving bank (MIT's bank) a fee, and what the amount will be. The customer is responsible for all bank fees.

Frontlist Options

The 2024 MIT Press frontlist is available in two collections: our general interest titles are available in the 2024 Trade collection and our monographs and scholarly edited books are available through the D2O program (<https://direct.mit.edu/books/pages/direct-to-open>). D2O participating libraries receive discounting on the 2024 Trade collection. Key subject areas covered include art and architecture, biomedical sciences, business and finance, computer science, cognitive science, design, education, environment, game studies, information sciences, linguistics, neuroscience, new media, and philosophy.

2023 Trade Collection

The 2023 Trade collection features approximately 100 general interest titles, including volumes in the popular MIT Press Essential Knowledge Series.

Pricing tiers for our Trade Collections and Backlist and Archive Collections are based on the most currently available Carnegie Basic Classification (US) and on institutional FTE (full time enrollment) and the highest degree offered (International). Corporate rates are equivalent to tier 5. For quotes or questions, please email mitp-library-relations@mit.edu.

Direct to Open (D2O)

D2O harnesses the collective power of libraries to support open and equitable access to vital, leading scholarship. Developed over two years with the generous support of the Arcadia Fund, in close collaboration with the library community, Direct to Open:

- Opens access to new MIT Press scholarly monographs and edited collections (~90 titles per year) from 2022 via recurring participation fees.
- Provides participating libraries with term access to backlist/archives (~2,500 titles), which would otherwise be gated.
- Covers partial direct costs for the publication of high-quality works that are also available for print purchase.

In order to ensure that we accommodate researcher needs and library budgets, we are offering libraries the opportunity to support the complete collection, or one of two, non-overlapping subject collections: Humanities & Social Sciences, and STEAM (STEM + Art & Design).

Backlist Options

Backlist and Archive collections are available by subject and by year on MIT Press Direct.

Subject Collection Archives

We offer four subject collection archives that include books on the platform published through 2022. The four subject collections—Economics; Science, Technology, and Society; Philosophy; and Environmental Science—represent core publishing strengths at the Press. Subject collections include leaders in their fields such as Slavoj Žižek, Theodor Adorno, and Ruth Millikan (Philosophy); Stephen S. Schneider (Environmental Science); and Joseph E. Stiglitz (Economics).

MIT Press Complete Collection Archives

The 2024 Trade collection and D2O participation come with term access to the corresponding backfile. For libraries and institutions interested in purchasing perpetual access to prior year collections, we offer backlist and archive collections by year.
